NORMAL GIRLS IN WAR WORK.

Y. W. C. A. Organize As Leaders.

Under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., the young women of the Normal have organized to do war relief work. This will consist of making garments for widows and orphans of French soldiers. At a meeting held October 5, about seventy young women voted to take up the work which was begun October 10. A monthly subscription amounting to about twenty dollars was used to buy materials with which to begin work. Each one will devote at least an hour's work each week to sewing, which will be done in a work room especially fitted for this purpose at the Normal.

Miss Ella Moore is the chairman of this work. Her four assistants are: Misses Mary Lewis, Birdie Ozenberger, Bernice Rutledge and Sylvia Ratliff. All garments are being cut by four faculty ladies: Misses Anthony, Helwig, Brunner and Miller. Two hours each day are given to the work with a different young woman in charge of the sewing room each hour. The schedule of hours and assistants follows:

Monday:

9:00-10:00Mahala Saville
11:00-12:00Ethel Wright

Tuesday:

10:00-11:00Thelma Eaton
3:20-4:15Blanche Daise

Wednesday:

9:00-10:00Alma Beeks
2:20-3:15Olivette Godsey

Thursday:

9:00-10:00Mabel Rogers
8:00-9:00Doris Saylor
11:00-12:00Dorothy Dale

Scrapes of gingham, muslin or outing flannel are desired. All who can furnish these are asked to leave them with Mrs. Gay Leeper at the Alderman-Yehle Dry Goods store.

This sewing club is open not only to members of the Association, but to every young woman in school. Since the work is now in progress, it is expected that the number will be greatly increased. This plan has not only the approval of the Normal faculty, but also its active interest.

R. A. KINNAIRD MARRIES.

R. A. Kinnaird, who left the Normal to become instructor in the University of Missouri, was married October 10, to Miss Neva Fisher of Carrollton, Missouri.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ENTERTAINS

Members of the Commercial Club and Maryville educators gathered at the Elks Club, Tuesday night, October 9, to discuss the community value of the public schools, the Conservatory of Music and the State Normal School. About one hundred were present to learn many surprising facts about the institutions.

M. M. McDonald, who is superintendent of public schools, presented statistics to show the money value to the average boy of daily attendance at school. Mr. McDonald believed the townspeople should investigate the work being done—only a small number are school visitors at present.

J. F. Hull pointed out the need for the cooperation of the business men and the school men in their efforts to make Maryville one of the best towns in the state. Each should know the interests and advantages of the other.

The value of music was discussed by Marcus T. Nielson of the Conservatory. Special emphasis was placed upon the community singing and the work of the Oratorio Society recently organized.

W. A. Blagg, with his usual enthusiasm for schools, placed the school by the side of the church as a developing agent in the lives of young men and women as honest, moral, and patriotic citizens.

President Richardson of the Normal stated many facts not generally known about the institution—facts which will bring a closer relation between the town and the Normal. The school is a big asset for the city; it is also a liability. Realization of this responsibility is part of the duty of the community.

After the addresses, a social time was enjoyed, with many new acquaintances made.

MR. BOASE LEAVES.

Milton S. Boase, who has been secretary to President Richardson, left Sunday, September 30, for Akron, Ohio, where he has accepted a position with the Goodyear Rubber Co.

Forrest Brown, center of the Green and White eleven, saw his first game of football from the sidelines Friday, October 5, when Maryville High School played Stanberry. Brown played thruout every game on the Normal schedule last year. He appeared to enjoy watching the High School game very much.

ANNUAL WALK-OUT DAY.

Wednesday, October 3, was observed as "walk-out day" by the Normal. The students went to school at the usual hour, eight o'clock. Instead of going to their classes, they departed in a body to spend the day in the woods. Later a committee was sent back to invite the faculty to participate in the day's outing.

For the past three years, some day early in October, the students have taken "French leave." Since it has become an annual affair, the instructors had been expecting something to happen; however, it came on an unlooked-for day.

The various leaders were successful in making the plans go thru without any member of the faculty learning the reason for so many "important" class meetings.

The day was spent near "the tunnel" northeast of town—the usual picnic place. A few students returned in time to hear the program given at the Christian church for the drafted men; while the entire gathering took part in the farewell parade.

COACH PALFREYMAN HURT.

Coach George Palfreyman was forced to go on crutches for several days after an encounter with his own "first" team. He was helping the scrubs show the varsity how to do it when he was tackled by right end Shilt and thrown to the ground. As they fell the coach's knee was twisted in some manner; a painful but not serious injury was the result. This did not put George on the hospital list long, however. The next evening he was coaching the men on his crutches; with threats to use the crutches on them if they did not "get in it."

JOE FARMER LEAVES.

Joe Farmer, a former student, spent several days visiting at the Normal before he left for his new home in Minneapolis. Mr. Farmer and his sister, Lois, will attend the University of Minnesota this year.

FORREST BROWN SEES FIRST FORMER COURIER EDITOR IN THE DRAFT.

Forrest Brown, center of the Green and White eleven, saw his editor of the Courier last year, was among those who left in the third contingent. Bird had planned to return to the Normal this quarter; but the draft took him for other work. Our school has lost one of her best men—one who will be a good soldier at the front.

NORMAL DEFEATED IN FIRST GAME.

Graceland Wins 30-7.

Thirty to seven, with Maryville on the short end, was the score of the opening game of the football season played here with Graceland College last Friday. The game was very rough; only a few of our players came through without bruises.

The game started with Graceland receiving the kick-off. They made two touchdowns during the first quarter. One goal was kicked, making the score 13-0.

Maryville had the ball very little during the first quarter. Whenever they did get it they soon lost it, by fumbles or on downs. The men were plainly nervous. It is easy to explain this, as none of the backfield had ever played behind the line before.

During the first half all the Maryville men tackled high. They seemed to forget all their football training. Most of the tackling in the first quarter was done by Miller and Richards. Twice Miller was the only man between the runner and our goal and both times "Doc" got him.

With the beginning of the second half the Bear Cats played better football. They opened up with forward passes and the passes worked. Shilt received two nice ones which took the ball to the 5 yard line. Richards was then given the ball and he carried it over the line for a touchdown. Miller kicked goal.

During the rest of the game the Bear Cats outplayed Graceland. Both the touchdowns that the visitors made in the second half were "flukes." One resulted from Miller's failure to catch a punt, the other from a fumble by Pickens.

Graceland made most of their gains in the first half on wide end runs. Cross bucks, line shifts and fake plays also netted good gains. Shipman, the little Hawaiian half-back was the star for Graceland. Besides making several long gains, he made a nice dropkick from the twenty yard line. Graceland was penalized several times for holding and once for slugging.

For the Normal: Shilt, Daniels, Brown and Neal played especially well. Pickens replaced Miller as quarterback in the last quarter. He helped to steady the team and made the men move with snap and pep.

The line-up of the two teams was as follows:

CRITICISE!

The Courier invites both destructive and constructive criticism from its readers. If you have any fault to find with the paper, let us know. Even then we may not be able to give perfect satisfaction; however, we will try to do so. If you like your paper, let us know—we are human.

In the first issue appeared several mistakes in sentence and paragraph structure; also a few bromides slipped in. Much of this was due to the fact that the staff members had only a few days after their appointment to make up the paper. Only one member had ever done any newspaper work before.

Much interest is shown by the class in Journalism; all are anxious to know real news writing technique. With these conditions each issue should show marked improvement, you may be the critic.

ASSEMBLIES.

Tuesday, October 2, during the assembly hour, Reverend Gilbert S. Cox, the newly returned pastor of the First Methodist Church, delivered an address on the subject, "The Bible." He compared the sale of the Bible with that of the best sellers of the time, showing that never before was it so eagerly read. Citizens and soldiers alike turned to the pages, which they had hitherto disregarded, for consolation and inspiration.

He said that for one, who wished to be truly educated and cultured, a knowledge of this holy book would unlock the treasures of Art and Literature. The great master paintings such as De Vinci's Last Supper, Raphael's Madonnas, and scores of others could not be appreciated without this knowledge. If the Bible were taken out of the writings of Tennyson, Browning, or Wordsworth, there would be little left. The biographies of eminent men and great movements in History are based upon its teachings.

Mr. Cox condoned the fact that the Book of all Books had actually proved, during certain periods of the past, a curse instead of a blessing. The narrow, perverted view of some had so warped its interpretation, that it has been made to justify magic, mysticism, bigotry, persecution and hypocrisy.

The address was closed with the statement that this Bible of ours, the guiding light of all nations—would soon be placed in the courses of study of our American schools. The great book that made our country possible should be given the same eminence that Mathematics or Language holds.

At this assembly, President Richardson admonished the students to so regulate their time that the essential things be not overlooked.

PROFESSOR BLAAHA GIVES RECITAL.

The second number of recitals introducing members of the Conservatory of Music to Normal School students was given at the assembly period Wednesday, October 10, by Wayne A. Blaaha, new instructor of the violin and stringed instruments.

Mr. Blaaha, accompanied by Miss Vesta Peterman, gave the following program:

- a. ReverieFanconier
- b. SerenadeDrdla
- c. GrandmaLanger
- a. PreludeSt. Saens
- b. MinuettBeethoven
- c. MazurkaWieniawski
- Cradle SongBlaaha
- a. Caprice ViennoiseKreisler
- b. FantasiaSevcik
- HumoresqueDvorak

The "Cradle Song" which Mr. Blaaha played as an encore was the most popular number on the program. This selection is one of Mr. Blaaha's own compositions and was played without accompaniment.

VICTROLA MUSIC.

During the music assembly, Friday, October 5, Miss Zenor prepared the way for the playing of Chopin's Funeral March on the victrola by giving an interesting, pathetic talk on the youth of Chopin and on the disintegration of Poland. The stately, measured beats of the piece, intermingled with a lighter strain of hope, conveyed to the audience, the solemnity, pathos and faith experienced by the composer upon the downfall of his native country.

Martin Lewis was elected yell leader for the fall quarter, at the close of the music assembly.

JUNIORS PRESENT BATON.

At the beginning of the quarter, President Richardson, stated that one of the purposes of the Friday Assembly was the promotion of school and class spirit. Taking advantage of this, the Juniors gave a demonstration of class pep, Friday, October 12, by a Surprise Program, during which they presented Miss Zenor with a baton made in the manual training department by one of their members, Clement Hahn. Songs and yells were vigorously applauded and, in the opinion of the Juniors, deservedly so.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

The present war is the subject of the history department this quarter. They have taken up the study of the present war in connection with their work. Through the medium of the newspapers and the magazines, they are becoming familiar with the problems confronting the American people today. These problems ought to have the careful consideration of all citizens. Among the topics considered are: patriotism, the submarine crisis, arms of America, why we are at war and the probable chance of victory.

CLASSIES GALLATIN LIBRARY.

Mr. Wells spent a few days last week in Gallatin, Mo., helping to classify the high school library there. A great many of the high schools have, with the assistance of the Normal, classified their libraries according to the Dewey system. Mr. Wells hopes that all the schools in the district will soon follow their example.

The two classes in library methods are doing some very practical work. In addition to the regular class work, practice at the library desk is required. This is not done in many of the State Schools, since the classes are so large that only the class room work can be given. The actual library practice teaches alertness, helpfulness, knowledge of varied dispositions, and ability to help or direct people, in addition to carrying into action the theories gained in the class room.

CONSERVATION RELATED TO OUR SCHOOL.

The home economics department shows that it is abreast of the war conditions by changing its course to suit the times. Perhaps it, more than any other department of the school, since it deals with the problems of life, must adapt its course to the changing conditions.

Since the war began the great cry has been conservation. The home economic classes are meeting this by studying methods of canning so that homegrown products may be utilized; thus saving other foodstuffs for our soldiers and allies. Other phases of this work are: foods necessary for the maintenance of the body, war breads and food substitutes.

In the Junior High School home economics class, the method of work is being entirely changed. Instead of making small quantities of food as before, they are making larger quantities and are taking it home to be utilized. In this way the influence reaches the home much easier. The children will bring most of the material from home. Their first problem is to can a quart of apples for their mothers. The children are showing great interest in preparing these foods.

FALL MILLINERY.

A new course is being offered this quarter—it is fall millinery. The girls are now making hat frames. Miss Anthony studied in the wholesale houses of St. Joseph, where she also purchased materials. When the articles arrived much interest was displayed and each member of the class appeared very enthusiastic over the work. (It might be added that the keeper of the supply store is not so enthusiastic.)

LANDSCAPE STUDY.

The art class in landscape study enjoyed a field trip on Monday, October 8. The purpose of the trip was to lead the students to appreciate the beauty of nature in their immediate surroundings. Often we fail to see the beauty of the scenes which are constantly before us. This class walked down the railroad track to the edge of town where they could study the splendor of the fall colors in landscapes.

EXCELSIOR NOTES.

The Excelsior Literary Society met in regular session, Thursday, October 4, and the following program was given:

Vocal Solo Bernice Wilson
Instrumental Duet Mrs. Pruitt
Miss Gillispie
Essay Bertha Jennings

The program was well rendered and enjoyed by all.

At the business meeting which followed, Miss Ward was elected society critic. The society, also, voted to carry out the suggestion of Professor Swinehart by making a special study of the Northwest Missouri Normal District. One number on each program will be devoted to this work. This is a new step in our society work, but one which will be a practical help to all taking part.

EXCELSIOR MEMBER IN DRAFT.

Among the Nodaway county boys who left for training at Camp Funston was Warren Vanseoy, Sheridan, Mo. Mr. Vanseoy, while a student here was a member of the Excelsior Society, representing it in the intersociety contests in the Spring, 1916 by delivering an oration.

BY WAY OF REMINDER.

Taken from Moberly Index.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 19.—The change from the general routine war has not materially affected work in the English composition Missouri's school enrollment, according to U. W. Lamkin, state superintendent of public schools, who has just taken a state-wide census of Missouri schools.

Mr. Yehle, being interested in aeroplanes, had chosen that theme for a composition. To make his efforts more interesting to the class, the only one having an increase, There are nearly 1,500 more students in the high schools and 2,000 more in elementary schools, of St. Louis and Kansas City than at this time last year."

"Reports from some county superintendents on enrollment in high schools, elementary schools and country schools show only two places where the high school enrollment has not been as large as last year," said Lamkin. "Elementary schools have about as many pupils as last year. There is a slight decrease in country schools due to harvesting of crops."

COLUMBIA, Sept. 19.—President Hill of Missouri announced this morning at the opening convocation that about 2,500 students had enrolled this year. Last year three thousand enrolled. The schools of Law and Agriculture suffered the most. Two women colleges, Stephens and Christian here announced twenty-five per cent increase in enrollment over last year.

AEROPLANES AND ENGLISH

What proved to be a very interesting change from the general routine class was afforded by Mr. Eugene Yehle the other day.

Mr. Yehle, being interested in aeroplanes, had chosen that theme for a composition. To make his efforts more interesting to the class, the only one having an increase, There are nearly 1,500 more students in the high schools and 2,000 more in elementary schools, of St. Louis and Kansas City than at this time last year."

In the future others will probably follow Mr. Yehle's example; thus making English helpful not only from a literary standpoint, but also from the standpoint of general information.

The above was handed to a staff member by Harold Adle, a member of English 11.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held October 10. After a piano solo by Mary West, the Bible lesson was read by Marie Landfater. The details of the war relief work were completed and the organization was explained to the girls. "Knowing One-self" was the subject of the discussion which was led by Birdie Ozenberger. The material was divided into three parts: "Choosing the Best" by Bernice Rutledge, in which the importance of decision was emphasized; "Test of One's Choice" by Olivette Godsey, who stressed the necessity of keeping true to the right choice; and "Dominating Purpose of Life" by Dorothy Dale who spoke on service. At the close of the meeting Miss Zenor commended the work of the Association in furthering personal development.

"KID" PARTY.

The Y. W. C. A. "Kid" party, which was held September 28, in the Library was one of the most pleasant social occasions of the term. The seventy-one guests were cleverly costumed to suit the period represented. By some mistake four "boys" were present: two sports, one little tough and the ever-popular soldier boy. After the competition engendered by their presence had subsided and suitable refreshments of apples, animal crackers and stick candy had been devoured, a kindergarten with Mrs. Lawrence as teacher was the main diversion of the evening. Here stories were told, songs "rendered" and the usual mischievous pranks played; the guests then hilariously departed, via the banisters.

FACTS ABOUT THE ALUMNI.

The executive committee of the Alumni Association, in compiling a roster of the graduates of Number Five, have found some interesting facts. We have alumni in twenty-one states, in the district of Columbia, and in Hawaii. Eight of our men are serving in the army. These facts were gleaned from the number of graduates the committee have been able to locate. The list of states with the number of alumni in each follows.

EUREKAN NOTES

Thursday afternoon, Dr. Davis gave an interesting talk to the Eurekan Literary Society on the subject, Society Loyalty. By recalling the loyalty of his former society friends, he gave to each Eurekan present a message of what the society means and shall mean to him. Dr. Davis made each of us proud that we are considered worthy of membership in the society.

In the business meeting which followed, Miss Winn made a few remarks which aroused each Eurekan to the responsibility and the dignity the society confers upon him.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Since Mrs. Mary Lawrence, a member of the Eurekan Society, has been called upon to give up through death a dearly beloved brother.

BE IT RESOLVED: that the members of this society take this means of extending to her their heart felt sympathy and furthermore,
